Contract of Stud

We agree to the breeding of Beeline stud of your choice to your female Brittany, _____ registration # _____.

The stud fee is to be paid at the time of breeding unless other arrangements have been made before the breeding takes place and are agreed upon by both parties.

A breeding producing a puppy fulfills the contract of stud.

In the event the breeding produces no puppies you are allowed one return breeding to the same female at a later date. If the second breeding produces no puppies the requirements of stud will be considered to have been fulfilled and the contract will terminate.

In the event of an act of nature that no longer allows the breeding of said dogs the following options are available:

If the stud dog is no longer viable for breeding then the owner of the female has the right to breed to another stud owned by Beeline Brittanys and Nolan Huffman.

If the female is no longer viable for breeding then the owner of the female may substitute another female providing arrangements are made before time of breeding.
